Dr Robertson's manner is always noted as having a calming effect on patients who at times can be very nervous upon attendance. He is patient and gives full explanations of findings. Comments and feedback received is always very positive and as a colleague I feel he brings some very welcomed positivity to the clinic!

As an ex elite professional athlete and a Strength and Conditioning coach, I have had the pleasure to deal with Dr. Robertson as a patient, as a work colleague and as a peer. I can attest of his professionalism, dependability and clinical skills that has been demonstrated throughout a brilliant sport medicine career at elite level. More than that, the "doc" is a wonderful human-being that has a knack to connect with people with a subtle dose of empathy, modesty and light-heartedness.
